VOL. 31, NO. 17

WASHINGTON, D. C., TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1935

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER
POST OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Registration Held Next Two Days In All Divisions

Matriculation in Corcoran
Hall From 10 A. M.
Until 8 P. M.

Registration for the second semester will be conducted tomorrow and Thursday, January 30 and 31, in all departments of the University.

Students will register between 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. in Corcoran Hall, in the following rooms: Junior College, 29; Columbian College, 23; Education, 24; Engineering, 25; Government, 23; Library Science, 27; Pharmacy, 31; Fine Arts, 27; Extension Students, 27; Students from Foreign Countries, 27; and Law, Stockton Hall. Deans and faculty advisers will be on hand to assist students in arranging their programs.

New Courses Started
In addition to the many full-year courses which may be entered at mid-term with the consent of the instructor, numerous courses in most of the fundamental subjects will start anew.

The Summer Sessions schedule is now available, and students may find out at this time how courses may be followed up in the summer. Classes for the second semester will be resumed on Friday, February 1. Initial payment of tuition must be made by January 31, or the usual late registration fee of $5 will be charged.

The University offers not only work in letters and sciences, but also training in the professional fields of government, law, education, engineering, library science, fine arts, medicine, and pharmacy. Admission in February to all of the professional schools (except Medicine) provides for the February graduates an uninterrupted course beyond the Junior College.

New Economics Courses
Courses which treat of contemporary governmental and socio-economic problems opening in February and economic planning, current economic problems, governmental control and industry planning, banking systems, federal taxation, and current history.

The Law School offers many courses dealing with legal problems arising out of recent developments in public and administrative law. The George Washington Law Review, Law School publication, is treating many important legal aspects of the new legislation.

Government Courses
Curricula in public affairs, foreign service, foreign commerce, public administration, business administration, public finance, and public accounting are provided in the School of Government. Entirely new courses which will be offered starting in February are psychology of character, camp-counselor training course, methods for teaching Latin, and recent Russian history.

Musical Tryouts To Start Monday

Book Selection Withheld
Until Drama Board
Approves

Tryouts for the forthcoming Troubadour show will be held next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in Corcoran Hall 10, according to an announcement made by Samuel Detwiler, managing director.

The schedule of tryouts is as follows: Monday and Tuesday, cast; Wednesday, specialties and men's and women's singing choruses. The singing choruses, an innovation this year, will contain about 20 men and 20 women.

Announcement of the book has been withheld pending formal approval by the Drama Board. Meeting of the board, scheduled for last week, was postponed until next Friday night.

The women's dancing chorus has been in rehearsal for some time under the direction of Helen Bealke, Troubadour dancing director.

The post of publicity director of the Troubadours is still unfilled. Persons interested in this position, which involves membership on the Troubadour board, are requested to meet with Sam Detwiler, Troubadour president, next Friday night at 7:30 in the Troubadour offices, second floor, Building S. Applicants should be prepared to submit a statement of their experience with The Hatchet and metropolitan newspapers, and with general publicity work.

Hospital Selects New Assistants

The four internes and two resident physicians for next year at University Hospital have been selected from the Medical School Classes of 1934 and 1935.

Richard Castell, L. Huntley Cate, Robert F. Norton and Harold Opsahl, '35, will be internes. Dr. Barton W. Richwine and Dr. William D. Terrell, '34, will be resident physicians.

Ragatz, Dreese, Atwell Direct New Second Semester Classes

Recent Russian History
Course to Trace
Soviet Progress

A course in Recent Russian History, among the first to be offered in this country, will be inaugurated here in the second semester under the direction of Dr. Lowell J. Ragatz, associate professor of history and executive officer of the history department.

The scope of the course is the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics of today from the advent of the Romanoffs in the early sixteenth century to the present day. It treats of the political, economic, social, and cultural background of the country's history.

Dr. Ragatz is a specialist in the field and has had the course in preparation for many years. Courses in Russian language and literature which opened last fall will continue next semester under Vladimir Stephanivick Kolesnikoff.

Character Class Opens
A new course, "Psychology of Character," will be opened in the second semester under the direction of Dr. Mitchell Dreese, associate professor of educational psychology and executive officer of the psychology department.

The course is designed for teachers participating in the character education experiment now being conducted in the local schools, and for others who wish to survey factors influencing personality development of school children.

The class will meet Tuesdays from 7:30 to 9:10 p. m., and will give two semester hour credits. Teachers in service may earn one

Constitution Amendment Would Give Organizations and Classes, Panhel and Interfrat, Delegates

Radical changes in the constitution of the Student Council, completely reorganizing student representation on the governing body, were proposed in a committee report at the Council's regular bi-weekly meeting, January 17.

The proposal, made by Ross Pope, chairman of the elections committee, would entirely abolish direct representation from the schools. The Council instead would consist of a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, elected at large; four class presidents, seven delegates from activities, and two representatives from professional and social groups.

Athletics Representation Cut
Men's and women's athletics, each formerly given one representative, would be consolidated and allowed only one delegate, while the Interfraternity Council and Panhellenic Association, heretofore not represented, would each be granted one Council member.

All class president formerly not seated on the governing body, would automatically represent their respective classes on the Council, while professional and social groups would each, for the first time, have one delegate to the Council.

Membership Increased
The proposed set-up, increasing the Council membership from 20 to 25, met opposition at the outset when Councilman Bernard Pagelson and Clara Critchfield fought the consolidation of men's and women's athletics. The opposition was, however, voted down. At the conclusion of the vote, the meeting adjourned until Thursday at which time other amendments to the committee's report will be offered and voted upon.

Members of the election committee, consisting of Ross Pope, James Edwards, Hazel Haynes, and Bill Martin, though not all agreeing on every point in the report, expected its passage in a slightly amended form.

Three-fourths of the entire membership of the Council, 15 councilors, must vote in favor of the constitutional change before it can be enacted.

The proposed constitution is printed in full on page 6.

Freshmen Must Attend
Assemblies on Monday

All entering freshmen must attend the freshmen assemblies Monday. Meetings will be held at 12:10 in Corcoran 11 for day students, and at 5:10 in the same room for evening students.

25 Will Receive Federal Help In Second Semester

Twenty-five students who made applications for FERA aid during the second semester have been accepted, according to announcement made recently by the president's office.

Those who have been approved will be given their work assignments on Friday afternoon. These vacancies were created by students who dropped out because they obtained other positions. Students who need assistance in paying their tuition are qualified to apply for FERA aid. The government pays $15 monthly towards the student's tuition, in return for which the student works about 60 hours a month. Application should be made at the president's office.

Alumna Passes Maryland Bar

Anne Snure, A.B. '28, LL.B. '34, was the only woman to pass the recent Maryland State Bar examination, noted as one of the most difficult in the country, it was announced last week.

Only 66 passed the examination, out of a total of 200. A number of women took the exam.

Miss Snure is the daughter of a Washington newspaperman, and is connected with the fine arts division of the Library of Congress. She passed the District bar examination in 1933, but does not expect to enter law practice in the near future.

Phi Sigs Awarded Scholarship Cup After Controversy

Council's Computing System
Puts Protesting
K. A.'s in Fifth Place

The winner of the Interfraternity Scholarship Cup based upon the Interfraternity Council's method of computing the averages has been declared to be Phi Sigma Kappa, the original winner in the list issued by the University.

The announcement follows several months of debate among the fraternities as to the method to be used in arriving at the averages, and whether fraternities reporting too late to be included upon the University list could be counted in the competition for the cup awarded by the Council.

K. A. Protests
Kappa Alpha fraternity made the official protest against the awarding of the cup to Phi Sigma Kappa. The Kappa Alphas claimed their average was higher and should be considered even though they were not listed by the University because they failed to meet the University's deadline for submission of a list of members.

Phi Sigma Kappa's original average was 2.20 by the University system, but went up to 2.44 by the Council's method. Kappa Alpha had claimed their average to be 2.34, which would have been higher than Phi Sigma Kappa's, but the scholarship committee of the Council announced their average as 2.22 which put it in fifth place.

All Members Counted
All members of a fraternity who are active during the semester must be counted according to the system devised by the Council. Pledges are counted for the semester in which they are initiated even though they were not active during most of the period, according to Fred Rawlings, chairman of the Council's scholarship committee.

Sigma Mu Sigma, listed as eighth by the University, jumped to a place of honor as second on the Council list with an average of 2.39 for the year. Acacia, standing second on the University list, dropped to third. Sigma Chi, another unlisted in the University averages, took fourth place in the Council's competition.

Caminita Warns Students Against Fake Salesmen

Warning against paying deposits on jewelry and novelties to two men who pose as traveling salesmen and who do not come back when the time comes to deliver the goods, has been issued by Ludwig Caminita, coordinator of student activities.

Students of a number of eastern colleges and universities have been victims of the scheme to the amount of several hundred dollars in some cases. The two men have been reported moving toward Washington.

The "salesmen" operate by visiting a fraternity or sorority house with a case of samples in the usual way, and offering exceptional bargains. The goods include plaques, banners, vases, etc., with the seal of any fraternity.

"Only a small deposit is necessary to hold these astounding bargains." Business is usually rushing and the "salesmen," with a neat sum in deposits, leave, never to return.

Seeger to Lead Chapel Service at Noon Friday

Raymond J. Seeger, physics professor, will speak on "Creative Christianity" Friday at the chapel service to be held in Corcoran 11 at noon. He also will announce a new series of talks to be given during the second semester.

J. Edgar Hoover Addresses Alumni Luncheon; Masonic Clubs Present Annual $7,000 Check

An address by G. W. Alumnus J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Division of Investigation of the U. S. Department of Justice, and the presentation to the University of a check for $7,000 were the features of an alumni luncheon held at the Mayflower on January 19.

Addressing five hundred fellow alumni gathered together in his honor, Mr. Hoover gave a vivid account of the work of his division and an insight into the set-up of the federal agency which in the past year and a half has wiped out most of the notorious criminal gangs recently operating in this country.

Pays Tribute to G. W.
Of particular interest to those listening were his opening remarks which paid tribute to George Washington University. He stated that this university has the highest percentage of any college in the country in the personnel of the Division, including 41 of the officials and special agents, 3 of the 4 assistant directors, and 4 of the "special agents in charge."

The audience rose in silent tribute as he spoke of the G. W. graduates who have lost their lives in the performance of their duties as federal agents. In this group are Inspector Samuel Cowley and Special Agent W. Carter Baum.

President Marvin, recently returned from the Pacific Coast, greeted the alumni. He received for the University the $7,000 check, the annual gift of the Na-

Gridmen Honored at Banquet

Harry Deming, left, was last night elected football captain for the 1935 season by the lettermen at their annual banquet at the Lee House. Alphonse "Tuffy" Leemans, right, was awarded the Omicron Delta Kappa trophy which is awarded to the most valuable player to the team. He received the same award last year.

Deming Elected Grid Captain; Leemans Wins O.D.K. Trophy; Pixlee To Stay Says Marvin

Harry Deming, giant tackle, whose kicking played a big part in George Washington's football success, was elected captain of the 1935 eleven, last night at the annual football banquet, held at the Lee House. Deming has been one of the Colonials' most consistent linemen in the past two years. His field goals won two games last fall and the third played no little part in the defeat of Tulsa.

"Tuffy" Leemans, sensational halfback, was awarded the Omicron Delta Kappa cup for the second consecutive year. The selection made by the sports writers of Washington termed Leemans the most valuable man to the team during the season.

Pixlee Won't Leave
There is no possibility of Coach Pixlee leaving the University, President Marvin stated in his talk. The president said he was trying to kill rumors, which had been prevalent during the past two months, that Pixlee would sever his connections with G. W.

Lettermen Not Forgotten
Toastermaster Elmer Louis Kayser then introduced Glenn F. Thistlethwaite, formerly head coach at Northwestern and Wisconsin Universities, now athletic director and head coach at the University of Richmond, who was the honored guest and principal speaker of the evening.

Thistlethwaite, choosing as his topic the definition of what a varsity letter really means, said that football players must realize now that they represent their institutions for life. He emphasized that letter winners are not forgotten in after life. "Their connection with the University is a lasting one," he concluded.

Letters Awarded
Coach Pixlee then announced the schedule for next season, and made the varsity letter awards. He had a word for each member of the team, particularly for the three seniors—retiring Captain Ed Clark, Bill Parrish, and Henry Strayer.

Student Program Tryouts Scheduled For February 5th

Tryouts for the second Student Radio Program, "Stanley in Africa," to be broadcast over station WMAL in February, will be held February 5 at 8 p. m. in Building M, Room 12, according to an announcement made by Prof. Douglas Bement, who is in charge of the program.

Of the cast of 16, five will be women's parts and 11 men's. The program will deal with the Stanley Expedition in Africa in search of Dr. Livingston, the famous scientist.

Plans are being developed whereby a speedier and more efficient method of photographing students will be possible at the time of their registration next fall. The tentative plans call for a camera which will take the registrant's picture when he begins his registration and will present the finished photo, stamped and certified when he completes registration and receives his activities book.

The abandonment of identification by the rogue's gallery method is only temporary and will be resumed next fall.

Pixlee Announces Schedule At Banquet

NINE GAMES LISTED

Meet Wake Forest, Davis-Elkins, Emory-Henry, and Catawba

By John Busick
(Sports Editor)

Alabama, Rice, Tulsa, and West Virginia are the highlights of the Colonials' nine-game football card for next season, announced by Coach Jim Pixlee at the annual football banquet last night. Other games listed are with Wake Forest, Davis-Elkins, Emory and Henry, Wichita, and Catawba.

The opening game is with Emory and Henry, Saturday, September 28. This is followed by Alabama, and in alternate weeks West Virginia, Rice, and Tulsa invade the Capital.

One Game Away

Only one game will be played out of town—Wichita at Wichita, Kans., in the final game of the season, November 23. West Virginia, Wake Forest, Davis-Elkins, and Tulsa will be played at night.

In Alabama and Rice, Coach Pixlee has selected two of the nation's leading teams for his eleven to combat. Washington's football contingent will witness the Rose Bowl champions of last year's New Year's Day's sensational 20-13 victory over Stanford in one of football's greatest exhibitions.

Coached by Frank Thomas, a pupil of the late Knute Rockne, the Crimson Tide placed itself in the sports world's Hall of Fame with its third triumph in the famed Pasadena classic. In the past decade 'Bama's teams have all bordered on greatness, their record over that period of time probably exceeding that of any eleven in the country.

Also Last Day for Entries
In Sorority Beauty
Contest

The last day to have $2 photographs taken for the Cherry Tree is Saturday, February 2. The same date is also the deadline for entries in Cherry Tree's annual sorority beauty contest.

After Saturday, all photographs will cost $2.50 and the absolute deadline for all photographs will be the middle of February.

Seniors, class officers, sorority and fraternity members, active and pledge, and all students who participate in activities, such as publications, dramatics, debate, and organizations should have their pictures taken for the yearbook.

In order to handle a last minute rush and to accommodate students who work in the daytime, Casson's, at 1305 Connecticut avenue, in addition to being open daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., will be open from 8 to 10 p. m. on Tuesday and Saturday nights, until the deadline.

Activities Book Photos Dropped For 2nd Term

University officials announced last week that the identification pictures, so painstakingly placed in first semester activities books, will not be utilized in the books during the second semester. Lack of student interest in athletic events which take place during the final term of the session was given as the reason for omission of the photographs.

Plans are being developed whereby a speedier and more efficient method of photographing students will be possible at the time of their registration next fall. The tentative plans call for a camera which will take the registrant's picture when he begins his registration and will present the finished photo, stamped and certified when he completes registration and receives his activities book.

The abandonment of identification by the rogue's gallery method is only temporary and will be resumed next fall.

Exitus Acta Probat

Natural Rivalries

THE football schedule announced last night by Coach James E. Pixie at the football banquet lists opponents calculated to keep G. W. in the front of the grid ranks, at least in this section of the country. Victories over Alabama or Rice, or both, would place the Colonials in the national spotlight, as did the 19-6 defeat of Auburn year before last and the 10-0 defeat of Tulsa last season.

An unusually fine showing, if not victory, against either of our leading opponents would place us among the elite—witness the Louisiana State game of last November. However, the remainder of the schedule is such that a respectable showing in these games, though not gaining us nation-wide favor, places us in a commanding position in the Middle and South Atlantic sections, and possibly in the East.

It is these "remaining" games that interest The Hatchet most. We understand that it is necessary and desirable to meet teams of national rank. As yet it has not been possible for us to meet these teams on an equal basis—to get the favored spots on their schedules and to get return games with them in their own stadiums.

It is not possible for us to meet the same major team year after year and to create a friendly rivalry. Naturally, then, our rivals, the teams we look forward to meeting year after year, must come from the ranks of the "remaining." These are not great teams, but they are good teams of high sectional standing.

The Hatchet is glad to see Tulsa, West Virginia, and Wake Forest scheduled again. We began playing Tulsa when the school was hardly known in the East. Its football reputation was not great but it was improving. Last fall when we met Tulsa for the fifth time, the entire city, as well as alumni and students, turned out to watch the Colonials break their "jinx" against the Westerners. In that time they had climbed several notches on the football ladder, along with us, and the game was what the critics call a "natural."

The Hatchet hopes West Virginia and Wake Forest will be scheduled again in the near future. Other "naturals" will be built up in this way. These will lead to more genuine interest and push us along until we can meet the strongest teams regularly and build up rivalries with them.

This method is a little slow but it gets results. We understand that a two-year agreement on a home-and-home basis has been made with Rice. This is the first step in the right direction and we hope the first two games are a success and will lead to a continuance of this relation.

Forum Unappreciated

ON every Thursday evening the George Washington Radio Forum is broadcast and on every Thursday evening G. W. students are almost unanimous in listening to something else—that is, if they listen at all.

It's not The Hatchet's fault; we print a front page story about the programs in every issue. It isn't the fault of the programs; they're good and daily papers all over the country recognize this fact with columns of space.

It looks as though the blame lies with the aforementioned students.

Last week's program is a case in point. A talk by a member of the school of education was the feature. His general subject was how a student can now begin to prepare himself so that his chances of getting a job upon graduation will be increased.

The local papers gave it considerable space next day. Those students who listened said that it was interesting and that, what's more, it was entertaining.

But from conversations it has been ascertained that very few students did listen.

Perhaps it's just that none of us will have any trouble getting jobs after graduation. Or then again, and this is more likely, it's simply that we have been sadly remiss in passing up a weekly radio program featuring talks by men we know, each of them talking on a subject in which he is expert, and all of it planned with a view to combining the useful with that which is interesting.

Women Deserve Parts

SEVERAL months ago when the all-student radio program was first announced, women in the University became very enthusiastic about it.

When the time for tryouts came, however, they found that the only part for a woman in "The Life of Simon Bolivar" was one scream and a Spanish phrase. Few women even took the trouble to try-out; they decided to try again next time when they were told there would be real parts for the women.

Consequently, there was much disappointment at the announcement that the creative writing class had chosen "In Africa with Livingston and Stanley" for the next playlet.

While we understand that the next program is to include some women, it would seem from the very title of the play that at least all the prominent parts must be played by men.

It cannot be that suitable female characters of history are not available for adaptation. Why not alternate stories of outstanding women such as Queen Victoria, Clara Barton, and Sarah Bernhardt with the programs dealing only with famous men?

With over one-half the student enrollment composed of women, and with an evident desire to participate on the programs, it would seem that the women deserve more consideration.

Pledge Prom Brilliant

EVEN if the pledges did discard precedent in opening the annual Pledge Prom to students at large, they deserve every credit for putting on a highly successful dance.

The affair showed planning in detail throughout. While the music probably did not have the "name" of former pledge prom bands, it was good. While the ballroom facilities were none too adequate, it was an attractive place.

Furthermore, everyone seemed to have a good time. And most important, no deficit was incurred.

The Poll and Peace

By JAMES W. HALEY

THIRTY Colleges Point Way to Wipe Out War." So reads the headline of the last release from The Literary Digest to editors of college newspapers, giving latest returns in the College Peace Poll being conducted by The Literary Digest and Association of College Editors.

In conducting the poll, questionnaires have been sent to more than 325,000 students in more than 100 American colleges. The questions asked are:

1. Do you believe that the United States could stay out of another great war?
- (a) If the borders of the United States were invaded, would you bear arms in defense of your country?
- (b) Would you bear arms for the United States in the invasion of the borders of another country?
2. Do you believe that a national policy of an American Navy and air-force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war?
3. Do you advocate government control of armament and munition industries?
4. In alignment with our historic procedure in drafting man-power in time of war, would you advocate the principle of universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor in order to control all profits in time of war?
5. Should the United States enter the League of Nations?

To date just over 30,000 ballots have been returned from 30 colleges.

In this early report, majorities in all 30 colleges voted: That the United States could stay out of another great war; that they would fight if this country were invaded; that they would not fight in the invasion of the borders of another country; all except Georgia, Indiana, and Purdue, that a navy and air-force second to none is not a sound method of keeping us out of a war; all thirty solidly for government control of armament and munition industries and for universal conscription of capital and labor in time of war.

WHILE George Washington was selected as one of the universities to be included in the ballot, The Hatchet has, from the first announcement, ignored the poll. We took this stand because we believe the poll subject to particular bias and therefore that the results will be misleading and lacking in representativeness, and the effect unwholesome and contrary to sound policies of defense.

We would have it understood, however, that we agree with the pacifists in one respect—we do want peace. We agree with The Pointer, published by the cadets of the United States Military Academy in that "we abhor war as a needless, stupid waste of life, culture, and property."

Our disagreement with the poll is not that we are for war and against peace, but that the balloting will not return a true cross section of American student opinion.

THIS misleading result, we contend, is due to the activity and expressiveness of members of a number of "youth movement" organizations which have sprung up in American colleges within the last two years. These organizations, while generally vague in their aims and purposes, almost without exception have as one of their chief aims "the promotion of peace."

These groups are overcome with peace sentiment. Marking an "X" in a box after a glance at the issue is a quite different matter from facing a national crisis.

It is in colleges and universities in which such organizations have flourished that the poll is being taken. If not, then why were such schools as the Military Academy, the Naval Academy, V. P. L., V. M. I., and The Citadel omitted from the poll, which includes "more than 100 American colleges"? The result is that those who cry for "peace at any cost" have their say, but the schools which would vote on the other side aren't even included in the poll.

The Hatchet contends that with a more truly representative poll there would be a decided shift to the affirmative in answering questions 1(a), 1(b), and 2. Especially significant on this point is the "yes" vote registered on question 2 by Purdue, Georgia, and Indiana, where the R.O.T.C. units are perhaps more prominent than in any other institutions included in the poll.

Particularly alarming would be the vote on question 2 (less than 10,000 "yes," more than 20,000 "no") if we did not recognize that it is not a true index. If this expression of will were carried out what would the ones so voting do if sent out to meet an invader? All of their longings for peace would come to naught if they had not military strength to repel the invader. Certainly the enemy would be little influenced by the vote.

AFTER-BEATS Vienna Music Deemed Light

But Audience Forces
Symphony to Encore
Pizzicato Polka

By WILLIAM CORLEY

CONCERT by the National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Hans Kindler, at Constitution Hall Sunday afternoon. Program: Overture to Die Zauberflote, (Mozart); Allegretto from the Symphony 53 in D Major, (Haydn); Unfinished Symphony in E Minor (Schubert); Overture to Die Fledermaus, (Johann Strauss); Polka, An Den Schönen Blauen Donau, (Johann Strauss).

THE MUSIC OF VIENNA has been for years the very epitome of lightness and gaiety, charming melody and facile beauty. It stood for all that was romantic in pre-war Vienna. And behind these stood the titanic figures of the great geniuses who lived there.

In selecting his all-Viennese program, Dr. Kindler divided his choice between music of two types in more or less equal amounts. The first half consisted of Mozart, Haydn, and Schubert; the second entirely of Johann Strauss.

Applause the Measure? If applause were the measure of the greatness of music, Sunday's concert would have brought some new highlights on the comparative excellence of the compositions played. The Magic Flute got its quota of applause as did the Schubert "Unfinished Symphony." Their combined strength, however, did not approach the strength of the applause for the "Beautiful Blue Danube." The most enjoyed presentation was that of Mr. Strauss' piece of ineffable, meaningless twaddle—the Pizzicato Polka—which was applauded by the audience to such an extent that it was given as an encore, not once, but twice.

I HESITATE to condemn a program which obviously brought such a great amount of pleasure to such a large number of people. Nevertheless, I feel that an orchestra of symphonic calibre is wasting its time in playing music of this latter type (which is incidentally played very well), and I would dislike to think that there are to be a large percentage of future programs to be constructed on this order.

Audience Responsible Furthermore, the responsibility of program selection lies directly with the audiences. An orchestra financially situated as the National Symphony, cannot afford to waste time far from what the majority of the concert-goers wish. That is, generally, as it should be. If, however, the audience wishes only Johann Strauss, there is but little use in supporting a large symphony orchestra to provide them with it. I would suggest hiring a good hotel orchestra instead.

JUST BETWEEN US And Now - A Student Union?

Ted Pierson Starts Movement to Form Body
Similar to Oxford Organization; Fagelson
Begins Elimination of Last Social Debt

By VERA VOLZ

WHAT would be your response to the projected George Washington University Student Union? As conceived by Ted Pierson, such an institution here would mean the establishment of a body like the historic Oxford Union at the English university, modeled upon the two houses of our own legislative body.

With the support of the many students here whose work and interests lie in the fields of government, diplomacy, and social service, a Student Union might conceivably become one of the strongest forces for their development.

Certainly a school with our unparalleled opportunities for such research and study should have some means of making student opinion articulate.

But until the project is well under way, possible campus reaction is most significant. The Hatchet, and I personally, would like to know how you feel about it.

Not satisfied with a year of activity unprecedented in the history of the Council, our own campus representatives have taken steps toward the reorganization of their body from within. We, the citizenry, appreciate their attitude of service at whatever cost to self.

With one more clean-up campaign, the last sully financial blot of University social functions will be removed. Deficits for this and that prom—unpaid debts whose existence was a constant humiliation to the school, even more than to the committees involved, were last year lifted by voluntary contributions from students at large. Now there remains only the bill for the Freshman Frolic of the spring of 1933.

Taking advantage of the clean-slate feeling that pervades the campus as the new semester comes up, a committee acting under the Student Council and headed by Bernard Fagelson has agreed to wipe out this last reminder of the irresponsibility of certain groups.

It seems to this department that those who dance should pay the piper. The present Junior class, as largely the same group which entered into the contract, should feel a moral if not a legal responsibility. But in such a school as this, the Junior class of this year is not exactly identical with the Freshman class of a few years ago. Thus it is impossible to fix the liability so neatly and exactly.

At this point the important thing is to clear away the possibility of embarrassment to future functions of this old debt.

The simplest way to accomplish this appears to be by free will contributions from all of us, regardless of affiliations with the class without complaint or post-mortems. We all share in the advantages to be gained by clearing up the matter.

Letters to The Editor

Former Greek Council Member Demands Action

To the Editor of The Hatchet:

EARLY last November there was a lot of disturbance and much talk about the awarding of the Interfraternity Scholarship Cup. The cause of the misunderstanding was the uninformed condition of the Council members in regard to this matter.

At a meeting at which I explained the awarding of previous cups, the suggestion for formulating a new permanent plan for the award was offered. This ruling was to require that names of current members of each chapter to be turned in at a date not later than January 15, of the first semester, and May 15, of the second semester. This was to prevent any confusion as to the members of each chapter to be considered in the scholarship computation, eliminate the possibility of padding the lists, and provide a deadline for the turning in of said lists.

The awarding for last year's scholarship has been taken care of, but what about this, and future years? The Council has only itself to blame for not providing a ruling in time to include the last semester. The general lethargic condition of the present Council in regard to sports and the Prom, might well be snapped out of by action upon the awarding of the Scholarship Cup. After all, they might as well justify their existence.

Respectfully,
EVERETT H. WOODWARD.

Exam Period Lull Interrupts Social Affairs

Sigma Chi Starts Social Whirl with Formal Banquet-Dance

Following the usual lull which marks the exam period, social affairs have taken on renewed activity and gaiety reigns once more.

Beginning the past-exam social whirl, Sigma Chi held its winter formal banquet and dance at the National Women's Country Club from 8:30 to 2 Friday evening.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon Chapter gave a "Baby" party Saturday night. The St. John's Chapter of Maryland were guests. Music for the dance was furnished by Joe Allen Jones' pledge orchestra from 10 to 8. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Saugstad were chaperones.

Bob Lavendar's orchestra furnished the music for a dance given by the pledges of Delta Tau Delta for the actives of the chapter Saturday night.

Other fraternities giving dances Saturday night were Phi Sigma Kappa, Acacia, Phi Alpha, and Sigma Nu.

The first dance of the new semester will be a freshman mixer for new students. It will begin with a program in the gym at 8 p. m. Saturday night and, following the program, a dance will be held at Stockton Hall until midnight.

Phi Epsilon Pi's "Winter Wonderland" dance will be held at the Lafayette Hotel the same night as the mixer.

Phi Sigma Kappa and Kappa Alpha fraternities will hold dances that night also. Phi Sigma Kappa will give an afternoon tea from 4:30 to 7:30 Sunday at the house.

On February 15 and 16 the entire chapter of Phi Alpha plans to go to the University of Richmond for the annual formal dance given jointly by the University of Richmond and William and Mary College.

Hatchet Editor Weds Secretly

Among the several marriages announced recently was that of Clara Kathleen Nourse to John Rust Busick. The marriage took place on Saturday, September 15, 1934, at Ellicott City, Md. Mr. Busick is a senior at George Washington University, and is an associate editor of The Hatchet. (Editor's note: For picture see Sport page 5).

Tau Epsilon Phi announces the recent marriage of David Goodman to Bernice Moskowitz, of Atlantic City, N. J.

Delta Tau Delta announces the engagement of Gaines H. Gough to Miss Edwina Barbara Beyer, a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority, from William and Mary College. Their marriage will take place February 14 in the Chevy Chase Presbyterian Church.

Phi Pi Epsilon Sends Delegate to Conference

Ruth Allen was an official delegate to the Conference on the Causes and Cure of War held this past week in Washington. She attended several of the meetings, including a tea at the White House given by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Miss Allen will make a report to the Phi Pi Epsilon, National Women's Foreign Service Fraternity, of which she is president, at their next meeting on February 12 at the Kappa Delta House.

S. A. E. Grants Two New Chapters During Holidays

At the recent national convention of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held in Washington during the holidays, a charter was granted to Theta Psi, a local at St. John's College in Annapolis.

A charter was also granted to a local at North Dakota State, making the chapter roll 110.

The St. John's members were guests of honor at a "baby" party given by the local chapter Saturday night at the fraternity house.

Commissioner Hazen Will Lead Grand March At Engineer's Fourth Annual Ball February 8

'Yes, Thanks, I'll Be There'

District Commissioner Melvin C. Hazen, sitting, has accepted an invitation to lead the grand march of the fourth annual Engineer's Ball at the Shoreham Hotel, February 8. He is shown getting his "bid" from Mary Louise Yauch, president of the Panhellenic Council, who is doing the honors because there are no women engineers on the campus. Terry McAdams, left, president of the Engineers' Council, and Harold Sangster, in charge of publicity for the ball, stand by.

Crack Women Sharpshooters Laughed at by Male Opponents

But G. W. Co-eds Turn Tables by Showing Merit in Marksmanship

By Kathleen Bulow
Did you ever notice the surprised and amused expression upon a man's face when his girl friend refers to her ability with a rifle? To what do we owe the joking attitude of the fearless University man when the women's rifle team is mentioned?

This attitude would be quickly changed if the men students of G. W. only realized just how proficient the co-eds really are in that skillful sport. And do they take it seriously? If you believe not, just pay a visit to the rifle range while the girls are shooting a match and watch their strained and worried expressions.

Scores Posted
The University rifle range is in the basement of Corcoran Hall. It is used by both men and women, separate days being assigned to each group. Scores of members of both varsity teams are posted, leading to great rivalry between men and women in an attempt to see who can score the greatest number of "possibles," or perfect scores.

Superstitious customs hold a prominent place among the various girls. "Who's been wearing my coat?" and "Somebody's been using my gun, and I can't find it," are expressions often heard about the range. The girls plead that they must have the combination of the right coat, glove and gun, if they are to have confidence in themselves.

Some Need Sleep
Some girls claim that they can shoot better after having had a full eight hours sleep. Others claim that for them just the reverse is true. Some stick close to regulation firing position, others go just as far away from it in order to make bulls' eyes.

In any event it appears as if the University man of the future will be unable to become amused at his gunning girls. After all you can't laugh at somebody that can get her man in more ways than one. Not if you're the man, anyway.

Students Visit 'Far and Near' During Post-Exam Holidays

By Alice Klopstad
The recess between semesters finds many G. W.-ites wandering far and near to enjoy a change of environment before resuming their studies of the new semester.

Karl Gay journeyed home to Boston for the holidays, while Sam Caldwell went in the other direction to his home in Charlotte, N. C. Among other homesick students were Tom Toner, who went to Detroit; and Bill Dunn, who went to Norwich, Conn.

Fred Stevenson is enjoying a visit at his home in Atlantic City,

International Students To Dance at Roosevelt

The annual formal of the International Students' Society, to be held at the Roosevelt Hotel on Saturday, February 23, will be an outstanding event of the social calendar for the new semester, according to Truman Keesey, chairman.

The dance committee will meet Friday to discuss plans for the affair. Members of the committee are Manuel Argel, Kitty Baart, Sui Fong Chen, Mrs. L. Harrison, Ernest Healy, Jr., Frances Johnson, Scott Kirkpatrick, Katsuro Miko, Cayetano Nagae, Naomi Pekmezian, Lee Roark, Jose Sobrino, Anello M. Tinto, and Doroteo Vite.

Profit to Be Used on Proposed Engineer's Club Says Freeman

By Ruth Brewer

District Commissioner Melvin C. Hazen has consented to lead the grand march of the fourth annual Engineers' Ball Friday, February 8, at the Shoreham Hotel. Commissioner Hazen has until recently been the District of Columbia surveyor.

Chairman Andrew Freeman states that all receipts above expenses will be turned over to Comptroller Charles W. Holmes to be applied to a fund for an "Engineers' Club Room" in a contemplated student building.

McWilliams' Play
Dave McWilliams' Orchestra, a Meyer Davis unit, will furnish the dance music. The Men's Glee Club, directed by Dr. and Mrs. Harmon, will render a program of songs.

The engineering faculty of the University will be guests of the Engineers' Council at the ball, as will several prominent members of the local professional engineering societies. Dean Henry G. Doyle and Mrs. Doyle have also been invited.

The list of honored guests includes Dr. and Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, Mr. and Mrs. George O. Sanford, Commissioners Allen and Sultan and their wives, Major and Mrs. Philip B. Fleming, and Dean and Mrs. John R. Lapham.

McAdams on Committee
Terry J. McAdams, president of the Engineers' Council, and Andrew Freeman, social chairman, are heading the committee in charge of the ball. They are assisted by J. Harold Link, tickets; Harold L. Sangster, publicity; Edward J. Thomas, entertainment; William A. Smith, invitations; Edward A. Baker, orchestra; and an alumni committee of James L. Johnson, Harry Yinger, William Ellenberger, Francis Hoffheins, and H. Valpeau Darling.

Tickets may be purchased at $2 a couple from any member of the council or from Miss Beatrice Hegg, secretary to Dean Lapham.

Coed Shooters Defeat Indiana In Rifle Match

Women Victorious in Second Shoot of Season by 488 to 467 Score

Indiana University was defeated by the women's rifle team Saturday, January 12, in the second match of the season. The G. W. team won by 21 points totaling a score of 488 to the 467 points of Indiana.

The five highest scores made by the G. W. team were: Mary Spelman, 99; Lorraine Lincoln, 98; Mary Louise Yauch, 98; Marjorie Sehorn, 97; and Helen Bunten, 96.

98 High for Month
Indiana's high scorers were Ruth P. Bradt, 99; Martha Myers, 98; Dorothy Smith, 92; Elizabeth Stillwell, and Helen Carrier, 91.

Last month, the squad members with the highest scores were: Carol Hobart, 98; Mary Fulgham, 97; Ida Gonzalez, 97; Carolyn Watson, 97; and Dahlia Lewis, 96. These women have been the high scorers on the squad for three months.

Individual Match Soon
Five members of the varsity are competing in the annual individual intercollegiate match. They are Jane Ficklin, Marjorie Sehorn, Mary Spelman, Villette Sullivan, and Mary Louise Yauch. The match is being fired in three stages. The second stage will be fired today and the last stage on Saturday.

Members of the rifle squad who are taking nine hours are eligible to fire in the individual squad match which will be held the first three weeks in February. The winner of the match will be awarded a gold medal at the W. A. A. winter sports banquet in March.

Pale Complexion, Vivid Red Lips Is Today's Fashion In Make-Up

By Helena Rubinstein
Noted Beauty Expert

The Lily Maid of Astolat would find herself quite the fashion today. More and more smart women are adopting a pale, striking make-up, accented by vivid lips and eyelids shadowed with blue or green. For the college girl, this is a simple make-up to follow, but it should be modified.

There is no point in looking too sophisticated if you cannot live up to it. Therefore, instead of the dead white pallor that some of the women are affecting, a touch of red raspberry rouge if you are brunette, or red geranium if you are blonde, is advisable. This applied near your eyes will make them look more sparkling. Choose your lipstick to match your rouge, and apply it rather generously.

Since eye cosmetics are a part of this smart new make-up ensemble, you need to darken the lashes and brows, and perhaps add a hint of shadow on the lids.

Be careful in choosing this type of make-up that you do not look as if you were indeed pining for a lost love. If, after you have tried it, friends ask you if you are well, add a dash of rouge. If that still doesn't help, you'd better let it go. Some of us are just not the type!

Oldest Alumnus, Trustee Member, Expire Same Day

Judge John Barton Payne, Major Samuel H. Walker Passed Away Here

Two men outstanding in public affairs, one closely associated with the University since 1919 and the other the oldest living alumnus of the University, died Thursday morning.

Judge John Barton Payne, 79, a member of the Board of Trustees of the University since 1919, and chairman of the American Red Cross since 1921, died at The George Washington University Hospital at 1 a. m. Thursday. Seven hours later, Major Samuel H. Walker, 91, oldest living graduate of George Washington University, and former superintendent of Washington's Metropolitan Police, died in his office at 507 E street, N. W.

Verging On 80
Judge Payne, who would have celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary Saturday, besides serving as chairman of the American Red Cross, was formerly Secretary of the Interior, a member of the Superior Court of Illinois, and a strike arbitrator during the World War.

He was taken to the hospital early in the week for treatment of an attack of influenza. Appendicitis developed and he underwent an operation, but his condition was complicated by pneumonia, plus his advanced age.

Appointed by Wilson
In 1913, President Wilson offered him the Solicitor Generalship of the United States, which he declined. However, at the entrance of the United States into the World War in 1917, he gave up his law practice and offered his service to the Government. As a Government representative he settled strikes on the Pacific Coast; served as a member of the Board of Appeals, Treasury Department; was general counsel of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation; general counsel for the United States Railroad Administration; chairman of the United States Shipping Board; Secretary of the Interior, and Director-General of Railroads.

With the announcement of Judge Payne's death, President Roosevelt issued this statement:

Roosevelt Mourns
"Again the nation mourns the loss of a great man. And those of us who were privileged to know John Barton Payne, as co-worker and friend, know how unfortunate and untimely is his passing. "His was an unselfish service. "To the lasting memory of this man it should and will be said that he never knew a boundary line either within or without the United States when flood, fire, earthquake, or other great adversity called the 'Greatest Mother' to help the needy."

Major Samuel Hamilton Walker, 91, a former superintendent of Metropolitan Police, was very well known in Washington, having been born here June 7, 1844, and having taken an active part in building up the northeast and southeast sections of the city.

Walker Well Known
Major Walker was also the oldest member of Sigma Chi fraternity. He was initiated into Epsilon chapter in 1884 and was the chapter's first initiate.

When General Jubal Early, the Confederate leader, led his troops on Washington, Walker, then a mere boy, fought in the defense of the city. He fought in the battle of Fort Stevens and returned to civil life after Early's raiders were repulsed.

In 1932, he celebrated his 60th wedding anniversary. Besides his wife, seven children, 16 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren survive him.

Mary Louise Yach, in charge of the women greeters, has appointed Marjorie Dengler, Frances Douglass, Barbara Fries, Violet Goebel, Adele Gusack, Marjorie Harrison, Mildred Hayes, Jane Hughes, Ethel McKeon, Ruth McNary, Katherine Porter, Edith Sikes, and Mary Spielman to serve.

Band Will Be Present
The assembly in the gymnasium will be enlivened by the presence of the University Band in full force, under the direction of Louis Malkus. The cheering squad will also be present.

To avoid confusion such as existed at the freshman mixer of last fall, admission to the dance will be by invitation only. All freshmen will be invited, and stag invitations will be sent to the presidents of all organizations of the University, for use by them or their substitutes. Badges of identification will be worn by everyone present, to facilitate recognition and acquaintance and to avoid the necessity of formal introductions.

Junior Pan-Hel to Meet to Discuss Rush Rules

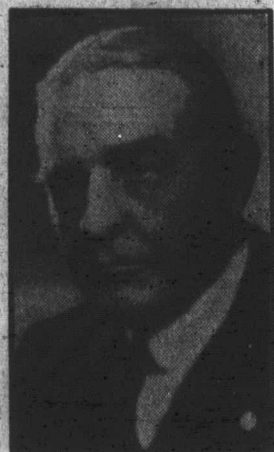

The Junior Panhellenic Association will meet February 5 in Corcoran 10 at noon. Discussion will center on changes in the rush rules and on methods of raising the $20 for the Junior Panhellenic Cherry Tree picture.

The Panhellenic Association will meet at the same time in Corcoran 11.

Atwell Directs Course
Physical Education 118, a training course for camp-counselors, will be offered for both men and under the direction of Ruth H. Atwell, director of women's physical education.

Included in the course will be such subjects as program-making, character education, psychology of adolescence, behavior problems of campers, campcraft, handicraft, and music in camp. These subjects are presented and studied through the mediums of lectures by specialists in the various fields; book and magazine reviews, class discussions, week-end of campcraft activities in camp, and instruction in several primitive handicrafts.

The class will meet each Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. One semester hour of credit in Education will be given for the course.

Born Instructs
A course in methods of teaching Latin will open the second semester under the direction of Dr. Lester Kruger Born.

The class hour has not yet been definitely arranged, but Dr. Born states that for the convenience of teachers it will be in the afternoon. The course will carry two semester hours of credit.

App Will Discuss English Literature

Dr. Augustus App, professor of English at Catholic University, will discuss "The Four Great Contemporaries in English Literature" before the Newman club Thursday evening at 8:15 p. m. in Columbian House. A regular business meeting will follow.

Milton Schellenberg, president announces that Dorothy Craig, Louise Gillis, and Ralph Northrop have been appointed to take care of the George Washington delegation to attend the Middle Atlantic Province Convention in February. Mary Kunne has been appointed as publicity delegate to the National Federation of Catholic College Clubs.

Six Law Courses Given in Summer

Three law courses will be offered in each of the summer sessions, according to an announcement made by William Van Vleet, dean of the Law School. The first term will last from June 10 to July 19, the second from July 25 to September 5.

During the summer, all courses will have classes from 5:10 to 7 p. m. every evening except Saturday.

Courses offered the first term are Torts, Law 141-2; Real Property 11, Law 241-2; and Trusts, Law 261-2, Agency, Law 101-2; Business Association, Law 311-2; and Equity 111, Law 323-4 will be given the second term.

Glee Clubs to Practice Tuesday in Building Y

Both glee clubs will resume practice next Tuesday, after a two-week lay-off during the examination period.

The women's club will meet at noon in Corcoran 29; the men's club at 7:30 p. m. in the same room.

New Law Review To Feature Article By R. S. Smethurst

Discuss National Labor Relations Board As Tribunal

Although created as an investigating and fact-finding body, the National Labor Relations Board has become an administrative tribunal purporting to exercise legislative, judicial, and executive powers. Thus writes Raymond S. Smethurst, a member of the legal staff of the National Association of Manufacturers, in the January issue of The George Washington Law Review.

Created under the NIRA to handle labor disputes growing out of Section 7(a), the Board has increased its own powers almost as much again as was given it in the original Wagner Bill, writes Smethurst, a member of the District of Columbia Bar.

Other Articles Listed
In addition to the leading article by Smethurst, the Review contains seven editorials by student editors and 18 recent case annotations. Among these are the recent "hot oil" cases, Panama Refining Company vs. Ryan, and Amazon Petroleum Corporation vs. Archie D. Ryan, which were decided by the Supreme Court on January 7.

The editorial notes contain a survey by H. Gifford Trion of the legal problems in the NIRA codes for the lumber industry. An interpretation and effect of the "emergency bank holiday" on the banking business is discussed by G. Newcomb Bates. "Executive Powers as Affected by Emergency," another topic relating to the New Deal, is edited by John E. Curry.

D. C. Home Rule Discussed
Katherine A. Markwell writes on home rule for the District of Columbia without the necessity of amending the Constitution. "PWA Loans or Grants to Municipalities for Construction Projects of a Proprietary Nature," is treated by L. T. Bennett, Jr.

"Protection of Patentees Against Importation of Infringing Articles Under the Tariff Act" is discussed by Firman P. Lyle. "Congressional Exemption from Suit and the Long Case" is written by Wheeler Yule Fisher.

Pledge Committee Reports on Keys

Group Will Investigate Possibility of Series of Radio Dances

The committee of the Interfraternity Pledge Council appointed to select a pattern for member's keys will make a report next Sunday when the council meets at the Delta Tau Delta house at 11 a. m. The keys will be purchased with funds derived from the Pledge Prom.

Council President Draper also announced Sunday night the appointment of a committee, headed by Garth Edwards of Sigma Chi, to investigate the possibility of staging a series of radio dances at various fraternity houses.

William Magruder, of Kappa Alpha, treasurer of the Council, will make a definite report Sunday on the financial outcome of the Prom, held at the Kennedy-Warren two weeks ago. The net profit has been estimated by Council members at $20, and a positive figure will be available after Magruder has made his report.

Basketers In Action Against Davis-Elkins And Villanova This Week

SPORT AXE

"POSSUM" James has picked a pretty tough bunch of ball clubs for his gridders to do battle with next fall and although his schedule is one game shorter than last year, his boys will make up for it in the type of opposition they tackle.

Alabama and Rice both should be stronger than any team met this year. Although losing Dixie Howell, Don Hutson, and Bill Lee from his Rose Bowl team, Coach Frank Thomas will have his blocking ace, Riley Smith, who cleared the way for Howell in most of his jaunts, and that up-and-coming passer, Mickey Riley. This pair, with Jim Angelich and Joe Demanyovich holding over, should give the portly Frank all he wants behind the line.

At Rice Coach Jimmy Kitts should have another crack club with most of his men on hand from last fall's outfit and the Owls expect to make trouble aplenty in the Southwest circuit. In his first season young Kitts showed the boys in Texas that he knew what it was all about in the coaching business.

With these two headliners, and Tulsa, West Virginia, and Davis-Elkins thrown in for good measure, the boys are sure to have their hands full in the fall.

WITH Alabama on deck for the first week in October, Pixlee and his aids will have to push the squad right along in camp and during the two weeks spent in Washington before the campaign gets under way.

Emory and Henry, a sturdy little outfit that knocked off Richmond early in the past season, has wisely been scheduled for the opener. It'll be no set-up game in any sense of the word and should help considerably to put the team on edge for its struggle with the Crimson Tide.

In past seasons the Buff has been slow in getting started. Pixlee's teams usually reach top form the third or fourth week in October. This year he'll be pushing his squad to the limit earlier than ever before to prepare for the surge of the famed, destruction-dealing Tide.

THE wise old heads in college football are keeping just one jump ahead of the pros in an effort to maintain their stranglehold on the gate receipts. This year the pros made substantial gains and the National Professional Football League became better known than ever before. The championship game drew around 50,000 in New York while the Giants and the Bears have been appearing before not-to-be-despised audiences on the Pacific Coast for the last month.

ONE phase of the situation that has made the fans sit up and take notice is the success of little-knowns in college in the pro league. Of course many of the all-Americans have made good, but Mr. Average Spectator recognizes all too few of the names he sees in the program on Sunday afternoon. He's beginning to wonder, like many of us, if this all-American business isn't all wet.

Vie With Scarlet Here Tomorrow; Play at Villanova

Meet West Virginia Monday in Morgantown; Berg Has Bad Toe

By Harry Ceppos
In an attempt to blot the perfect records of two of its three opponents in the next six days, the Colonials will meet undefeated Davis-Elkins and Villanova, and the twice-conquered West Virginia.

G. W. will play Davis-Elkins tomorrow night at the gym, Villanova, Friday, at Villanova, Pa., and West Virginia, Monday at Morgantown.

Though the Davis-Elkins crew has not rated screaming headlines because of its undefeated record, the Scarlet Hurricane have knocked over at least one good team in Wittenberg which it defeated 52-31. G. W. beat Wittenberg 47-33. The day after meeting the Logans, the West Virginians will tilt with Catholic University.

The Villanova contest is expected to try the G. W. basketekers to the utmost. The Wildcats have numbered Bucknell and Western Maryland among their eight victories, while they will oppose teams of known strength later in Duquesne, Pitt, Temple, and C. C. N. Y.

West Virginia Strong
Though West Virginia cannot boast an undefeated record, it perhaps has played the hardest schedule of any of G. W.'s opponents.

It is second in the Eastern Intercollegiate League. The Mountaineers have defeated Maryland and Temple while winning six games. Duquesne and Pitt have earned victories over West Virginia, Pitt winning 35-34 Saturday.

An added significance of the West Virginia victory over Temple is seen in the fact that Temple romped over Indiana 50-30, and Indiana outplayed G. W. 45-41.

Coach Logan of G. W. has not yet decided upon a starting line-up for the Davis-Elkins game. Because Clarence Berg, regular guard has sprained a toe and will not start; George Freilicher and Tuffy Leemans will probably perform at the guard posts. Hal Kiesel is sure to start at center and the forwards will be chosen from Howell, Goldfaden, and Noonan.

Leemans Honored
Tuffy Leemans was given honorable mention on Liberty's All-American football team in the last issue.

Athletic Leaders Hold Meeting At "Y."

George Washington athletic leaders played a prominent part in the recent Conference on Physical Education sponsored by the Physical Education Association of the District which was held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday, January 19.

Max Farrington, assistant athletic director, Ruth Atwell, and Fred Mulvey, former Colonial end and now head of athletics at Gordon Junior High, were members of the conference committee. Miss Atwell is president and founder of the association. Mrs. Ruth Foster, athletic instructor and dance coach, was discussion leader of the women's dance section. A similar position was filled by Farrington in the men's athletic section. Miss Margaret Lea, athletic instructor, gave an address on "Swimming Clubs" to the women's athletic section.

Mrs. Henry Gratton Doyle, wife of the Dean of Columbian College and vice president of the Board of Education, spoke at the luncheon held in the gymnasium.

Roberts Is Star But Emory-Henry Loses to Varsity

Virginia Center Scores 15 Points in Vain As G. W. Wins 35-28

The spectacular, yet sound, playing of Captain Glenn Roberts of Emory-Henry, was the shining light when G. W. met and conquered Emory-Henry 35-28, January 15.

Roberts showed the local fans something new in basketball when he marked up 15 points, while he played a very smooth floor game. His execution of the block play from all sides of the block zone was a sight for sore eyes.

When he attempted this play, Hal Kiesel, G. W. center, would jump to block the ball, but Roberts seemed to stay suspended in the air, and when Kiesel would drop, Roberts would shoot the ball from any angle into the basket. It was Roberts who bolstered the team in the second half with his passing and sharpshooting.

The game, though, was not confined to Roberts' playing. Jimmy Howell led the G. W. scorers by potting two baskets and sinking seven fouls for 11 points. The break of the game came with four minutes to go with the score tied at 25 all.

Here, Leemans, Noonan, and Goldfaden scored in succession to put the game on ice for G. W. Roberts ended the game with a field goal from a block play just as the whistle blew.

Court Comment

Glenn Roberts, versatile Emory-Henry center, established himself as the best player to perform against the Colonials by his brilliant performance in the G. W.-E. H. game. He not only scored 15 points but his consistent floor play foiled the G. W. attack on several occasions. The usually cautious Hal Kiesel was forced from the game because of four personal fouls. Capt. Jimmy Howell regained the top notch of the individual scorers card with his 11 points. Ben Goldfaden fell into second place as he only scored 5 points.

Maddox Goes to West Point
Lucien Maddox, star athlete at Shepherd State Teachers' College, has received an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Maddox played half-back for the Teachers last year in the game with G. W.

Bernie Has a Job
Bernie Witucki is one graduate who is not worrying about finding a job. The capable reserve center has been given a job as coach in the Public High School system of South Bend, Indiana, and he will take up his duties there after graduating next month.

Coaches Consider Change In Laterals For Meeting of Grid Rules Committee

Saturday, February 2, New York City will be the mecca of members of the American Football Coaches Association who will convene in the big city to decide any changes in the playing code they should recommend to the National Rules Committee, which body will meet February 28.

The most important change that will probably come up for consideration is that concerning the lateral pass rule. As the rule stands now, if a completed forward pass or a run is followed by a lateral pass which is accidentally thrown forward, the ball is returned to the point where the play started. There has been considerable agitation by coaches that the present penalty is too harsh and the ball should be declared dead where the lateral was attempted.

Lou Little of Columbia, chairman of the coaches committee, is of the opinion that the ball should be declared dead at the point the lateral was attempted, but that some penalty be dealt from that spot. He believes that the offensive team should not be deprived of all the valuable yardage gained on the execution of the play.

Other changes that have been proposed by various coaches throughout the country include that of moving the goal posts back to the goal line again. Also it has been suggested that forward passing should be permitted anywhere

In Swim Meet

Dyer Ghormley, D. C. A. A. U. breast stroke titleholder, will run into some tough opposition Friday night at the Shoreham pool.

"Tuffy" Leemans Praised by Paper

Alphonse Has Nice Things Said About Him in Plain Talk

"Tuffy" Leemans is still receiving the plaudits of the press for his football antics last fall. After getting All-American mention, picked on the All-Eastern, being a unanimous All-District choice, and winning the O. D. K. award for the second year in a row, Alphonse now gets nice things said about him in the February issue of Plain Talk.

Macon Randolph concludes his summary of the past season with the following statement:

"One of the greatest backs ever to play football was uncovered by little George Washington University in the Nation's Capital, and the fact that he was left out of All-American teams picked by the experts shows the utter futility of these annual fall brainstorms. Only the Hearst papers seem to have ever heard of George Washington University or of Alphonse 'Tuffy' Leemans, the Belgian hare from Superior, Wis. They gave him honorable mention which showed their pickers hadn't looked him over."

Leemans' picture is run under the caption, "All All-American." Randolph rates the first ten teams in the country in the following order: Minnesota, Ohio State, Pittsburgh, Alabama, Colgate, Rice, Temple, Stanford, Navy, and Notre Dame.

Three Cheers for Espey
Jack Espey, the forgotten man around G. W., should be given a few cheers for his publicity stunts that put Leemans and others of the grid team before the people of other localities during the past grid season.

Colonials Compete In District A. A. U. Swim Meet Friday

Junior Breast Stroke Race Is Featured Event; Many Stars Entered

The Shoreham Hotel Pool will be the scene of the first highlight of the Washington swim season when the District A. A. U. runs off its first meet Friday night at 8 p. m. The feature of the meet will be the championship of the National A. A. U. Junior Breast Stroke. Captain Dyer Ghormley, of the Colonials, is accorded a fighting chance against the highly touted visitors, Kurt Nuernig and Sara Cukor of the Dragon Club of Brooklyn.

The other feature of the evening will be in the women's events. From the standpoint of Colonial rosters, Friday night will mark the official debut of the Buff and Blue swimmers this year.

In addition, Dyer Ghormley, Washington swimming fame will see Beverly Carter, who after several years at Duke University, has returned to his home waters. While at the Southern Institute, Carter fulfilled the promise he had shown at Central High School, by capturing the Southern Conference 440-yard free style crown and has been very impressive thus far as a Colonial.

To See Action
Others probably to see action are Bonner, fancy diver; Hain, and Parsons; backstroke; McMillan, Vonder Brugge, Molyneux, and Kelly in the sprints; and Vartia in the distance events.

The first dual meet of the year will be with Washington and Lee, February 8. The schedule follows: February 8—Washington and Lee; February 15—Johns Hopkins; February 22—Lafayette (Easton, Pa.); February 23—Delaware; March 8, 9—Intercollegiate (Pittsburgh); March 22, 23—District A. A. U.

Rifle Squad Fires

Inter-Team Match

With the opening league match two weeks in the offing, Coach F. T. Parsons, Jr., has arranged an inter-team rifle match to be fired between the first and second varsity teams Friday, February 1.

On February 16, Penn State comes to Washington to fire a shoulder-to-shoulder match with the G. W. target-men. The seven high men on the varsity roster at that time will be used against a seven-man Penn State team.

The regularly scheduled league match February 16 with Georgetown will be fired February 15 as a telegraphic match.

Frosh and Marines Meet at Quantico Tomorrow Night

Fresh from two recent victories, the freshman five will journey to Quantico, Va. tomorrow night to take on a rugged and heavier Marine team.

After taking it on the chin for the second time this season from Tech High, the yearlings have climbed back on the victory wagon with conquests over the quintets of Y. M. C. A. and the Raymond Rindor School.

In the return to a winning stride the frosh took the Y. M. C. A. into camp on the latter's own court. With Tommy O'Brien showing the way, the final result was never in doubt from the very first whistle. Saturday evening the Raymond Rindor School of Highland, N. Y., into camp on the latter's own court, was defeated in a game which was played in the G. W. "cracker-box" gym. Laverne Liddycourt, elongated, yearling center, and Lee Fenlon, diminutive forward, were the offensive stars of this game with 15 and 10 points respectively. The Rindor school is coached by George Koehl, a former G. W. student.

Deming Elected '35 Grid Captain

In addition to the three seniors letters were awarded to the following: Deming, Benefield, Leemans, Kolker, Kavalier, Hanken, Jenkins, Mann, Wright, Plotnicki, Rathjen, Reeves, Vonder Brugge, Prather, Witucki, and Watts.

Representative Jennings Randolph, of West Virginia, formerly athletic director at Davis Elkins, was a guest. Toastmaster Kayser also introduced Denny Hughes, football captain of '22, Jack Slaughter of '25, Steele McGrew of '29, and Lee Carlin of '33. Max Farrington awarded a varsity letter to John Swayze, junior manager of varsity football of the past season, and announced that Jack Brown, freshman manager this year, had been selected as varsity manager for next season.

Council Decides Against Page In '35 Cherry Tree

Caminita Fails to Suggest a Plan for Reducing Page Costs

The Interfraternity Council will have no page in the Cherry Tree for 1935, it was decided at a meeting of the Council held Sunday, January 20.

This action was taken because of the failure of Ludwig Caminita, jr., coordinator of student activities, to propose a satisfactory plan for reducing the price of the yearbook.

Sales Price Unaffected
Caminita stated that the possibility of increasing Cherry Tree sales, suggested to him by members of the Council when he appeared at a previous meeting, would have very little effect upon the sales price of the book.

The action of the Council refers only to the pages formerly taken in the annual by the Council as a group, it was stated by Ken Patrum, publicity chairman. Individual fraternities must determine for themselves whether they will subscribe to pages.

Cup Winners Named
At the same meeting, Phi Sigma Kappa was selected winner of the Council's scholarship cup. The award will be made at the Interfraternity Prom, Patrum said.

Proposed Constitution Student Council

PREAMBLE
We, the students of the George Washington University, having been duly elected from classes, activities-at-large, and empowered by the students and activities of the University to establish and formulate a student government to act in matters concerning the student body, do establish a student organization to be known as the Student Council of The George Washington University.

ARTICLE I
Section 1. The name of this organization shall be the Student Council of The George Washington University.

Section 2. The Student Council shall have the power to act as an administrative, legislative and judicial organization in matters affecting the student body. All organized student activities are under the supervision of the Student Council, subject to the approval of the President of the University. Without the consent and approval of the Student Council, no student organization which in any way represents the University before the public, or which purports to be a University organization or organization of University students, may use the name of the University in connection with its members as students.

ARTICLE II
Section 1. The members of this body shall be elected as follows:

The President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer shall be elected at large by the student body; the four class presidents shall automatically become members, representing their respective classes, and elected by said class. The following activities shall be represented by a delegate from said activity elected or appointed by the members of said activity: Athletics, Music, Dramatics, Debate, Publications, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic, and two professional groups which shall be grouped as follows:

Elected at large: President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer.

Activity delegates: Men's and Women's Athletics, Publications, Dramatics, Music, Debate, Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic, Council, Professional and Social Group A and Professional and Social Group B.

Professional Group A: Alpha Chi Sigma—Chemical, Alpha Epsilon Iota—Medical (women), Alpha Kappa Kappa—Medical, Chi Sigma Tau—Chemical (women), Lambda Phi Mu—Medical, Mortar and Pestle—Pharmacy, Phi Chi—Medical, Phi Delta Epsilon—Medical, Phi Lambda Kappa—Medical, Alpha Kappa Psi—Economics, Alpha Kappa Sigma—Legal, Delta Phi Epsilon—Foreign Service, Delta Theta Phi—Legal, Gamma Eta Gamma—Legal, Kappa Beta Pi—Legal (women), Phi Alpha Delta—Legal, Phi Delta Phi—Legal, Phi Pi Epsilon—Foreign Service (women), and Junior Bar.

Professional Group B: Alpha Pi Epsilon—Home Economics, American Society of Civil Engineers, American Society of Electrical Engineers, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Chi Upsilon—Geology (women), Phi Theta Xi—Engineering, Scarab—Architecture, Sigma Gamma Epsilon—Geology, Engineers' Council, Home Economics Club, Mathematics Club, Speakers' Congress, Charles C. Swisher—Historical Society, Women's Educational Club, Colonial Campus Club, Art Appreciation Club, Le Cercle Francaise, College Poetry Society of America, International Relations Club, League of Women Voters, Philippines Club, Rousers' Club, Schoenfeld Deutscher Verein, Spanish Club.

Section 2. A student to be eligible for membership on the Student Council shall be a regularly enrolled student in the University in good standing, shall be enrolled in said class he seeks to represent, if a class president, or shall be an active member in such activity as he represents.

Article III
Section 1. The representatives of the Student Council shall be elected each year during the last school week in April. These elections shall be administered and regulated in a manner prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council.

Section 2. The newly elected representatives shall meet with the Student Council but shall have no part in the proceedings thereof until the expiration of the school year. At the last regular meeting of the year the newly elected members shall organize as the Student Council for the ensuing year.

Section 3. A student, to be an eligible candidate at said election, shall have a petition which shall be in the form of a nomination signed by at least five per cent of the student; he seeks to represent. This petition is to be filed with the Student Council at a time and in a manner prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council. The candidate shall sign an affidavit prior to the elections, the contents of which shall be set forth in the by-laws of the Student Council and which affidavit must include a statement that, to the best of his knowledge, he will be enrolled in the class from which he is a candidate for the ensuing year.

Section 4. When any vacancy occurs in the representation of the Student Council said vacancy shall be filled by the defeated candidate of the class wherein the vacancy occurs, having the highest number of votes at the previous election. In the absence of any defeated candidate, the vacancy shall be filled by an election for said position under the direction of the Student Council, if the vacancy occurs before the end of the first semester. If the vacancy occurs during the second semester, the Student Council shall appoint a representative from that department to fill the vacancy.

Section 5. No student shall serve upon the Student Council for more than two successive years.

ARTICLE IV
Section 1. The Student Council shall hold regular meetings at a time and place prescribed by the by-laws of the Student Council not greater than two weeks apart.

Section 2. The President of the Student Council shall have authority to call a special meeting of the Student Council whenever he deems such meeting necessary.

Section 3. All meetings of the Student Council shall be conducted in accordance with Roberts' Rules of Order, unless otherwise stipulated.

Section 4. No business may be disposed of in the absence of a quorum. A quorum shall consist of a simple majority of the total membership of the Student Council.

ARTICLE V
Section 1. The officers of the Student Council shall consist of a president, a vice president, a secretary, and a treasurer.

Section 2. Any officer of the Student Council may be removed by a three-fourths vote of the total membership of the Student Council.

ARTICLE VI
Any member of the Student Council may be expelled by a three-fourths majority vote of all members of the Student Council. It is expressly provided, however, that such member shall receive written notice of this proposed action at least one week prior to such action, in order that he may appear before

Howard to Give Chemistry Outline On Next Forum

Will Inaugurate Series of Three Speeches Thurs- day Over WMAL

The first of a series of three talks on chemistry will be given on the G. W. Radio Forum Thursday evening at 7:30 over station WMAL. The speaker will be David H. Howard, jr., instructor in chemistry.

Last Thursday's speaker was Prof. Mitchell Dreese of the School of Education. His advice to young people at this mid-year commencement season was, "Don't put all your vocational eggs in one basket."

Dr. Dreese stated, "For years to come there will undoubtedly be a surplus of applicants for practically all types of work, and the average person will have to be an opportunist and make the most of the 'breaks' as they occur. Only the unusually gifted individual will be able to select a definite vocation with the assurance that he will be able to find a place in it. And he even may experience some difficulty in getting a foothold in his chosen field of work."

In conclusion Dr. Dreese predicted that unless the generation now in power finds some solution to the problem of unemployment, the "unwanted generation" of unemployed youth, whose numbers increase year by year, will soon constitute a voting force that will compel drastic action.

20 University Men On Roll of National Politiconomic Forum

Students Hear Prominent Speakers at Sunday Meetings

By Howard Ennes

Twenty George Washington University men are now included in the membership of the National Politiconomic Forum, a discussion group composed of representatives of the 48 states formed last May by Ted Little, law school student.

The organization meets bi-weekly for Sunday breakfast at the University Club to hear talks by leading public figures on current governmental problems. It functions as a study of government for law students of George Washington University, Georgetown University, and the National Law School.

Questions Asked
Following the guest speakers, an open discussion period of 30 minutes is held during which members of the forum may question the speaker concerning the problem being discussed.

During the past year many prominent figures in public affairs have been heard. Last Sunday James T. Williams, Hearst editorial writer who was present at the

TED LITTLE
League of Nations session which formed the World Court, discussed the Court.

Wagner to Speak
Next Sunday Senator Richard F. Wagner will discuss the old age pension plan. Secretary of Labor Frances L. Perkins will speak on the labor situation two weeks later. Miss Perkins will be followed by General Amos A. Fries, who will speak on communism.

The plan of a discussion group composed of representatives from the several states was proposed by Little last year. By having a representative from each state present to give his state's views, a cross-sectional picture of any governmental problem is presented.

Little was elected president of the forum last May with Ted Pierson, president of the Student Council, as vice president; and Charles Tobey, jr., secretary.

20 Students Enrolled

George Washington University students who are members of the organization are: Walter Allen, Oklahoma; Elmer Buckhorn, Oregon; Kerchland Dean, Illinois; Walter Elder, Kansas; James Galoway, South Carolina; Jack Harvey, New Mexico; Ruben Haslam, Utah; Malcome Hay, Jr., New York; Scott Kirkpatrick, Arkansas; Ted Little, Washington; Corwin Lockwood, Ohio; Arthur Murphy, Delaware; Carlton L. Nau, Pennsylvania; J. Edgar Nelson, California; Ted Pierson, Iowa; Dix W. —so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure...so much satisfaction

Early Colonial planters shipped hundreds of pounds of tobacco to England in return for goods and supplies.

They came looking for gold
... but they found tobacco

...and tobacco has been like gold ever since!
The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.
